

Five Signs You Need A Business Coach

Prepared by The Sewells Team

1

You see no clear path forward

This can apply to many aspects of your business. Do any of these cases sound like you?

- You are lost in terms of understanding your role
- You don't know what your day-to-day tasks should be
- The business's direction keeps on changing
- You don't have a clear set of priorities or plans written down

2

You're overwhelmed

How many of these statements apply to you:

- When was the last time I truly relaxed on holiday, or went home on time?
- Are the things I'm doing on a day to day basis actually moving me towards my goal?
- There isn't anyone else I can turn to for answers

3

You need more personal accountability

Perhaps you've written down your goals for yourself and your business, but you just can't seem to meet them. Before you think "these goals are too lofty," you should ask yourself if you're really pushing yourself to do everything you can to meet those goals.

4

You want to develop new skills

Whether you have been commended for your natural leadership skills or know you lack confidence when it comes to your ability to lead a team, everyone can find ways to improve themselves.

5

You feel like you're in a rut

While there is no definitive answer for when to hire a business coach, a good benchmark for knowing its time is when you say, "I don't really know what to do next."
